The life of a chair

The life of a chair

... do you think it is ready to consider moving this document forward to the next step in the process yet?

Proposal

- We add something to the draft submission page, where the submitter can indicate that they think this version should be {adopted | last-called }
 - ... this has some scary warnings to cut down on overly eager bunnies
- This triggers some email and shows up on the DT too
 - ... perhaps we also show when a CfA or WGLC actually ends...

Conclusion

- Will make chair's life better, adds transparency, make it less likely that things fall through the cracks, makes participants less likely to become frustrated, generally makes everything better!
- Should be simple to do....
 - ... basically "just" Tools-Team work.
- Any strong objections?
